Protecting a Business' Assets

a business law seminar

Tuesday, February 24, 2009

2 – 4 p.m.

UBS Tower
1 N. Wacker Drive
38th Floor Conference Room
Chicago, Illinois

Joshua Betancourt with UBS Financial Services is sponsoring a business law seminar centered on protecting a business' assets. This includes securing and protecting intellectual property rights, employment agreements including non-competes, non-disclosures, severance, hiring and separation.

Presenters:

Charles Krugel of Charles A. Krugel will present labor and employment law concerns. He is a Labor and Employment Law and Human Resources Counseling Attorney on behalf of management.

Boris Umansky of Leydig, Voit & Mayer will speak about intellectual property – copyright, patent, and trademark law. He is a former attorney with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO).

The seminar is free. Food and drinks will be served.
For building security reasons, prior registration is required and may be done via Charles Krugel at cak1@charlesakrugel.com or 312-804-3851.
